Dear Sirs:

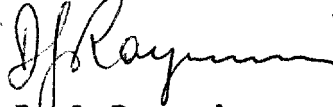

You are undoubtedly aware that Pergamon Institute is undertaking the translation and publication of a great number of Russian scientific reports, journals, books and other publications. In this endeavor, the Institute is anxious to keep up-to-date as to what is being accomplished by other agencies in this field.

We have learned recently that you are issuing a report entitled "Consolidated Translation Survey". We are interested in learning whether this survey can be made available for internal use to Pergamon Institute.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

PERGAMON INSTITUTE

D. J. Raymond
